

2022 NCC Seminars – Volume One and Two – additional webinar Short eDM copy

Subject

The ABCB have announced an additional webinar session for the 2022 NCC Seminars – Volumes One and Two

Body

Due to popular demand the Australian Building Codes Board (ABCB) are offering a second webinar session. This additional online session will be held on Tuesday 19 July 2022, providing you with an alternative opportunity to hear from experts about key changes to Volume One and Volume Two.

If you are registered and would like to update your attendance to any of the sessions, you can easily do this yourself by following these instructions:

- Go to the NCC registration website and choose the 'Modify' option.
- Enter your email and the reference number you received in your '2022 NCC Seminar: your registration' email from seminars@thisiscreative.com.au. You will also find a link to the registration website in this email.
- Select the 'Edit' icon next to the registration under the heading 'Existing Attendees who wish to modify their registration can do so below:'

As well as adding an additional webinar session, the ABCB have also extended the early bird discounted rate for the face-to-face sessions - Secure your place early for $130 (GST Inc.) per registration. Offer now ends 15 June 2022.
